

Summary Information

Title: Temple-Inland Land Department Surveyor Field Notebooks

Collection Number: 2007:036

Creator: Temple-Inland

Collection Dates: 1913-1990

Extent: 42 ft<sup>3</sup>

Language: English

Collection Abstract:

Ownership of vast amounts of East Texas and Western Louisiana forestland was a major component of the Temple Companies business for much of the 20th century. The land allowed them to cut their own timber and also provided capital. One of the main jobs of the members of the Land and Timber Department was to maintain a record of the company's lands and the lands it acquired and sold throughout the years. The company's surveyors recorded their work in field books, which were kept in the Land department until the sale of the company's lands in 2007. These field books recorded the boundaries of the company's lands and were useful for logging purposes, but also for tax, real estate, mineral rights, and legal claims. These books were carried by the individual surveyors and reflect the surveying style of each man who carried and used them. In this collection, each book is described using the surveyor's notes; the county and the names of the original title holders and abstracts are listed, as are some of the towns, landowners, railroads, and mineral companies. They are roughly divided by surveyor, but their numbering and order is the same as it was when the collection was in use by Temple-Inland.

Author/Processing Information: Front matter and research by Emily Hyatt. Collection inventory by Patsy Colbert and Matt Gorzalski.

Revision History: Shortly after acquisition of the collection in 2007, Emily Hyatt prepared a preliminary finding guide using Chuck Mott's notes and a basic summary of the contents. In 2011, Matt Gorzalski and Patsy Colbert began a detailed inventory, finishing in 2013. This finding guide is a result of that detailed inventory.

Biographical/Historical Note:

The History Center acquired the Temple-Inland Land Department Surveyor's Field Notebooks in November 2007 along with 9 other collections pertaining to Temple-Inland's history of land ownership and management. Shortly after the records transfer, Chuck Mott, former Temple-Inland Land Department employee, assisted the History Center by explaining the uses of each records series. His notes will serve as the basis of this collection's interpretation.

The field books contain notes and measurements that were kept by a surveyor or field crew during the process of re-tracing a boundary line of property. For the most part, the earliest date is about 1913 with books going through the 1990's. Field books were kept with other land records and often time were transferred when lands changed hands. For this reason, this collection contains field books for lands that were considered Temple land in 2007, but might have been surveyed for another company. Companies included in these field books are: Southern Pine Lumber Company, Temple Lumber Company, Temple Industries, Inc., Houston Oil Company of Texas, Sinclair, American Republics, and Humble Oil.

For the most part, there are 9 groups of field notebooks, divided by surveyor. These are:

- 1.) James G. Barker from Hemphill, some Temple lands. According to a statement included in the back of each book, Southwestern Settlement & Development Corporation purchased these books in 1948.
- 2.) H.A. Woods and Coy Woods on Houston Oil Company lands.
- 3.) G.C. Mettauer, 1913-1920, on lands acquired by Temple-Eastex, Inc. in 1986 from Owens-Illinois, which can be traced back to the Angelina County Lumber Company.
- 4.) W.W. Dubose and John Hunter, Houston Oil Company lands.
- 5.) Harold Birdwell was company survey party chief for Temple. He worked out of the Pineland Office and lived in San Augustine. He was employed by the company for over 40 years.
- 6.) Roland G. Goodrich, Temple surveyor based in Diboll who worked mostly on Temple lands prior to the 1970's.
- 7.) Karey L. Lee (RPLS#1733), Temple surveyor that worked from the 1970's-2001.
- 8.) Other surveyors not listed in the index of field books but whose notes may appear under Houston Oil Company – Ray Billingsly, 1950's-1990's; Kay Henson, 1950's-1990's; John Means, short time – no dates available; Frank Strother, short time – no dates available.
- 9.) Kenneth Nelson, 1940's-1970's, fieldwork mostly in Houston, Trinity, Cherokee, Anderson, and Angelina counties with some books covering small jobs in and around the town of Diboll and the Temple sawmill complex.

Collection Scope and Content: Field Notebooks contain notes from at least 14 different surveyors covering Temple lands throughout East Texas from 1913-1980's.

Arrangement: Original order has been maintained. The donor numbered and labeled each book and books are still arranged by this number. Note about searching: Users should use the search function in their pdf reader or browser to search for names and locations. When searching for personal and company names, users should try common spelling variations and even common misspellings of names – the inventory was based on the surveyor's handwritten notes, which may have been misspelled or largely illegible, although the processors did their best to decipher the lightly written pencil markings.
