for
COUNTY JUDGE

A native son of your county. The man that has and will continue to give you a business administration. Reduced your county government expenses $76,077.93 the first year. Reduced your hospital expenses $11,850.93 the first year, with only seven patients more in 1932 than 1933. Charity work done in 1932, $10,628.50. Charity work done in 1933, $10,351.20.

I am making this race on my records. When I assumed the duties as your County Judge January 1, 1933, the county records showed a book balance of $93,479.28. On checking at the bank I found the county to be overdrawn $750.00. Your county bonds and warrants were selling at 60c and less on the dollar. All our county bonds and warrants are now selling above par.

Do you want a man to serve you as County Judge that has succeeded in restoring your county's credit, or do you want to experiment with a man that has had no experience in financing a county government?

One of my opponents has made a complete failure in financing our county government, and the other has had no experience at all.

Whom do you want to be your County Judge?

I believe in and supported the Old Age Pension amendment. I have and will continue to aid and assist all old age pension applicants. I will continue to give you a carefully planned budget for the expenditure of the county funds. Give me a chance to fully restore your county credit by electing me your County Judge. You may tickle me, but please don't scratch me.

Those who constitute government should keep in close touch with those entrusted with the responsibility of its management. Especially is this true when it comes to authorization of public expenditures and the levy of taxes with which to pay them, both of which are legislative functions. Your commissioners court is the legislative body of your county and the County Judge is the presiding officer of that body. Much depends upon the executive ability of your County Judge in directing the affairs of your county government. My experience qualifies me to render you a better service in the future than I have in the past.

THE DYING SOLDIER

A waste of land, a sodden plain,
A lurid sunset sky,
With clouds that fled and faded fast
In ghostly phantasy.
A field upturned by trampling feet,
A field uplaid with slain,
With horse and rider blent in death
Upon the battle plain.
The dying and the dead lie low,
For them no more shall rise
The evening moon, nor midnight stars,
Nor daylight's soft surprise;
They will not wake to tenderest call,
Nor see again each home,
Where waiting hearts shall throb and break
When this day's tidings come.
Two soldiers, lying as they fell
Upon the reddened clay,
In daytime, foes; at night, in peace,
Breathing their lives away.
Brave hearts had stirred each manly breast;
Fate only made them foes,
And lying, dying, side by side,
A softened feeling rose.

"Our time is short," one faint voice said;
"Today we've done our best,
On different sides. What matters now!
Tomorrow we shall rest.
Life lies behind. I might not care
For only my own sake;
But, far away, are other hearts
That this day's work will break.

"Among New Hampshire's snowy hills
There pray for me tonight
A woman, and a little girl
With hair like golden light."
And, at the thought, broke forth, at last,
A cry of anguish wild,
Which could not longer be repressed,
O God! My wife, my child!"

"And," said the other dying man,
"Across the Georgia plain,
There watch and wait for me loved ones
I ne'er shall see again—
A little girl, with dark, bright eyes,
Each day waits at the door;
Her father's step, her father's kiss,
Will ne'er greet her more.

"Today we sought each other's lives;
Death levels all that now,
For soon before God's mercy seat
Together we shall bow.
Forgive each other while we may;
Life's but a weary game;
And, right or wrong, the morning sun
Will find us dead the same."

The dying lips the pardon breathe,
The dying hands entwine;
The last ray fades, and over all
The stars from heaven shine;
And the little girl with golden hair,
And the one with dark eyes bright,
On the Hampshire hill and Georgia plain,
Were fatherless that night.

. . . Two Outlaws Whose Killings and Plunderings Shocked a Nation

Twentieth Century Bad Hombre

—Associated Press Photos.

Top: The home of John Dillinger, notorious bank robber and jail breaker, situated on the edge of Mooresville, Ind., a village near Indianapolis. The nation's No. 1 desperado spent his youth on this hilltop farm.

Lower: John W. Dillinger, his 69-year-old father, who suggests that if his son were given another chance he would make a good policeman. "He's smarter than most of them," the father commented.

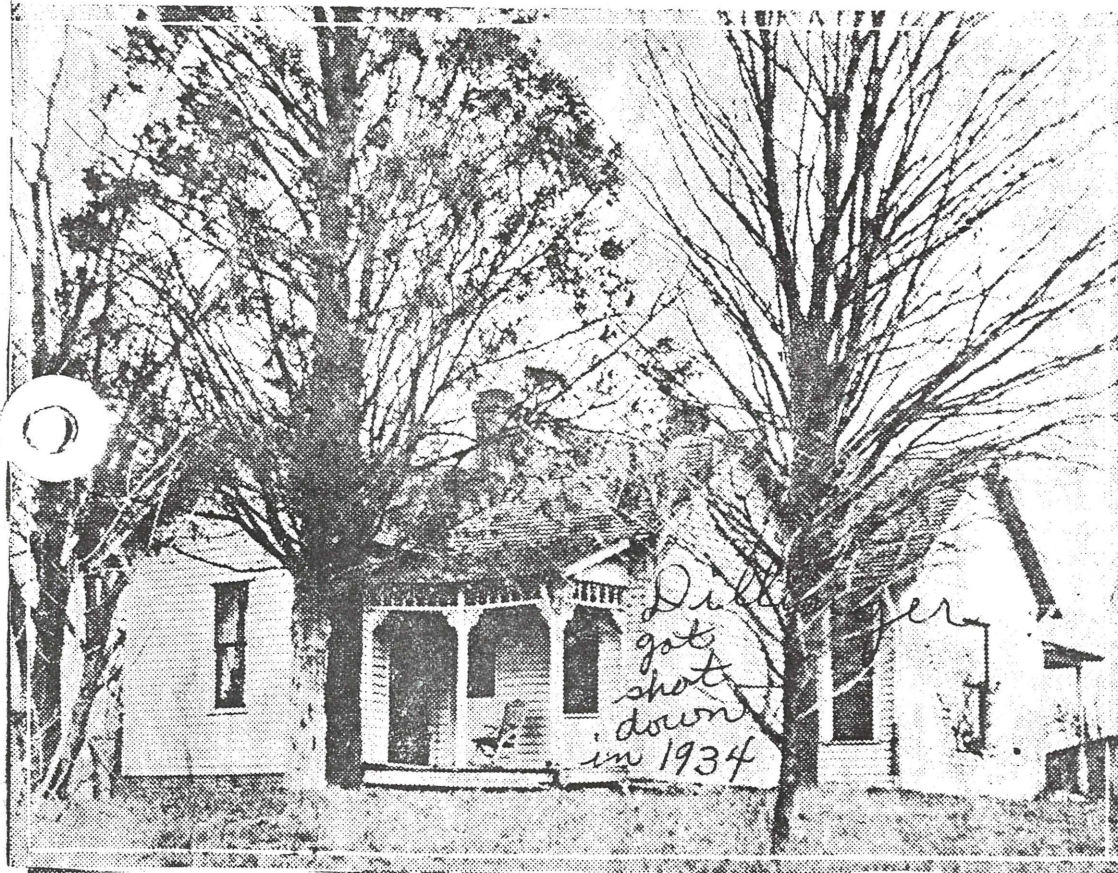

JOHN DILLINGER is loose today, after jail-breaks, robbery killings and an intensive man-hunt. His weapons are modernized—he's a twentieth century hoodlum. But certain facts about his life bear resemblance to the career of Jesse James. Will it take the law as long to catch up with this 1934-style outlaw whose steed a high powered car as it did to catch up with his Missouri prototype? He got shot down in 1934

Zavalla Girl Shoots Self Through Lung

July 1, 1936
Tries Suicide After Argument With Her Step-Brother

CONDITION SERIOUS

Shots Through Body ;
waits Visit of Father

Sixteen-year-old Candace Lea Couie of Zavalla, who said she shot herself through the right lung last night after an argument with her stepbrother at the family home, lay on a bed at Angelina county hospital today and said she wasn't sorry she had tried to kill herself.

Her condition is dangerous.

"Did you really mean to kill yourself?" she was asked by a Daily News reporter.

"Certainly. What do you think did it for if I didn't?" was the reply.

From what the patient said she had quarreled with her stepbrother and had climaxed the affair by going alone to a room, seizing a rifle, placing its barrel against her shoulder and firing a bullet into her body.

"But you feel different about it today, don't you. You really are glad that you are not going to die?" the reporter quizzed.

Candace Lea thought for a long moment and then looked up and replied, "I don't know."

A young man who sat by her bed and described himself as her "boy friend" said he was awfully glad she didn't die.

"He didn't know I was going to do it. He wouldn't have wanted me to do it, I know," said the girl as she squeezed his hand.

Her brightest hope today seemed to be the anticipated visit of her father, A. J. Couie from Douglass, Texas. He was notified shortly after the shooting.

Candace said it didn't hurt right away after she had shot herself.

"I must have fainted," she declared. "When I came to I was on the bed and then they brought me to the hospital."

Zavalla Girl Tells Of Suicide Attempt; Is Critically Hurt

July 1, 1936
LUFKIN, Texas, July 2.—(Spl)—Miss Candace Lea Couie, 16, who admittedly shot herself through the right lung with a .22 rifle in her Zavalla home last night was in critical condition at the Lufkin hospital tonight, although Dr. L. H. Denman said she had a chance to live, barring complications.

Admitting suicide intent after argument with a stepbrother and apparently indifferent to the approach of death today, the girl seemed anxious to see her father, then on his way to her bedside, while she coolly described to a boy friend and others the sensation of a bullet drilling through one's body. "It did not hurt right then," she said.

Select 7 on Floyd's Jury

Examination of Venire is Under Way Today in Slaying Case

Selection of the jury to try Louen Floyd, Zavalla, charged with murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of D. Jones, of Zavalla, in Camp Nancy Feb. 24, got under way in district court this morning at 9 o'clock with seven jurors accepted at noon.

They were Taylor Martin, Ed Smith, Sam Weeks, H. A. Haley, Lee Allen, Lloyd Forrest and Albert Cook.

Jury selection was expected to be completed this afternoon. The state this morning exercised six of its allotted 15 challenges while the defense used nine.

Three of the 25 veniremen examined were excused, two because of opinions and one who was opposed to the suspended sentence law in a murder case.

Defense attorneys Wiley Poston and Hiram Rolston, appointed by the court, indicated in their examination of the panel that they would seek a suspended sentence. The prosecution indicated the state would not ask for capital punishment.

The affray took place at a dance hall in Camp Nancy, allegedly in an argument over a guitar.

Jones was standing near a car in front of the dance hall with his wife leaning on his shoulder and surrounded by witnesses at the time he was stabbed, investigating officers said.

Return of Military Dead for U. S. Burial To Await End of War

WASHINGTON, April 30. (INS)—No military dead can be returned to the United States for burial from any war theater until final victory is won over Japan, the war department said today.

Noting that the imminent fall of Germany had raised false hopes in the relatives of some of the European casualties that the dead could be returned soon after V-E day, the department said that shortage of transportation facilities and the need for personnel would make this impossible.

Following the cessation of all hostilities, it added, the department will communicate with all next of kin to determine those who wish to have their soldier dead returned to the United States.

HELLO, CENTRAL; GIVE ME HEAVEN.

"Papa, I'm so sad and lonely," sobbed a tearful little child. Since dear mamma's gone to heaven, papa, darling, you've not smiled. I will speak to her and tell her that we want her to come home; Just you listen and I'll call her through the telephone.

Chorus—

"Hello, Central, give me heaven, for my mamma's there; You can find her with the angels on the golden stair. She'll be glad it's me who's speaking; call her, won't you dear? For I want to surely tell her we're so lonely here."

When the girl received this message coming o'er the telephone, How her heart thrilled in that moment; the wires seemed to moan. "I'll answer just to her, 'Yes, dear heart. I'll soon come home.' Kiss me mamma, kiss your darling through the telephone!"

River Victim Buried Today

Body of Ed Marshall Recovered From Angelina River

Funeral services for Ed Marshall, 19, victim of a fishing tragedy on the Angelina river Saturday afternoon, whose body was not recovered from the swollen stream until 4 p. m. Tuesday, were held at 10 o'clock today at the Parker cemetery, with Rev. J. A. Black officiating.

Marshall, a CCC enrollee, drowned when his boat overturned in the river at "Fish Trap," a popular fishing site. Efforts of Zavalla and Concord citizens, CCC enrollees, and Lufkin fire department members to recover the body proved futile until tractors were used to pull submerged trees and brush from the river.

Gipson Funeral Home reported that the body came to the surface at 4 o'clock yesterday, about 100 feet from where Marshall first went under. Shortly before the body was found, a tree top had been pulled to the surface. It was believed that overalls the youth was wearing had caught on the tree.

Young Marshall is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Marshall of Zavalla; seven brothers, Curtis of Houston, Prentice, Loyde, Ray, Henry, Roy and Herman Marshall, all of Zavalla; and four sisters, Mrs. Beatrice Bryant of San Augustine, Mrs. Effie Homsley, Jewel and Madeline Marshall of Zavalla.

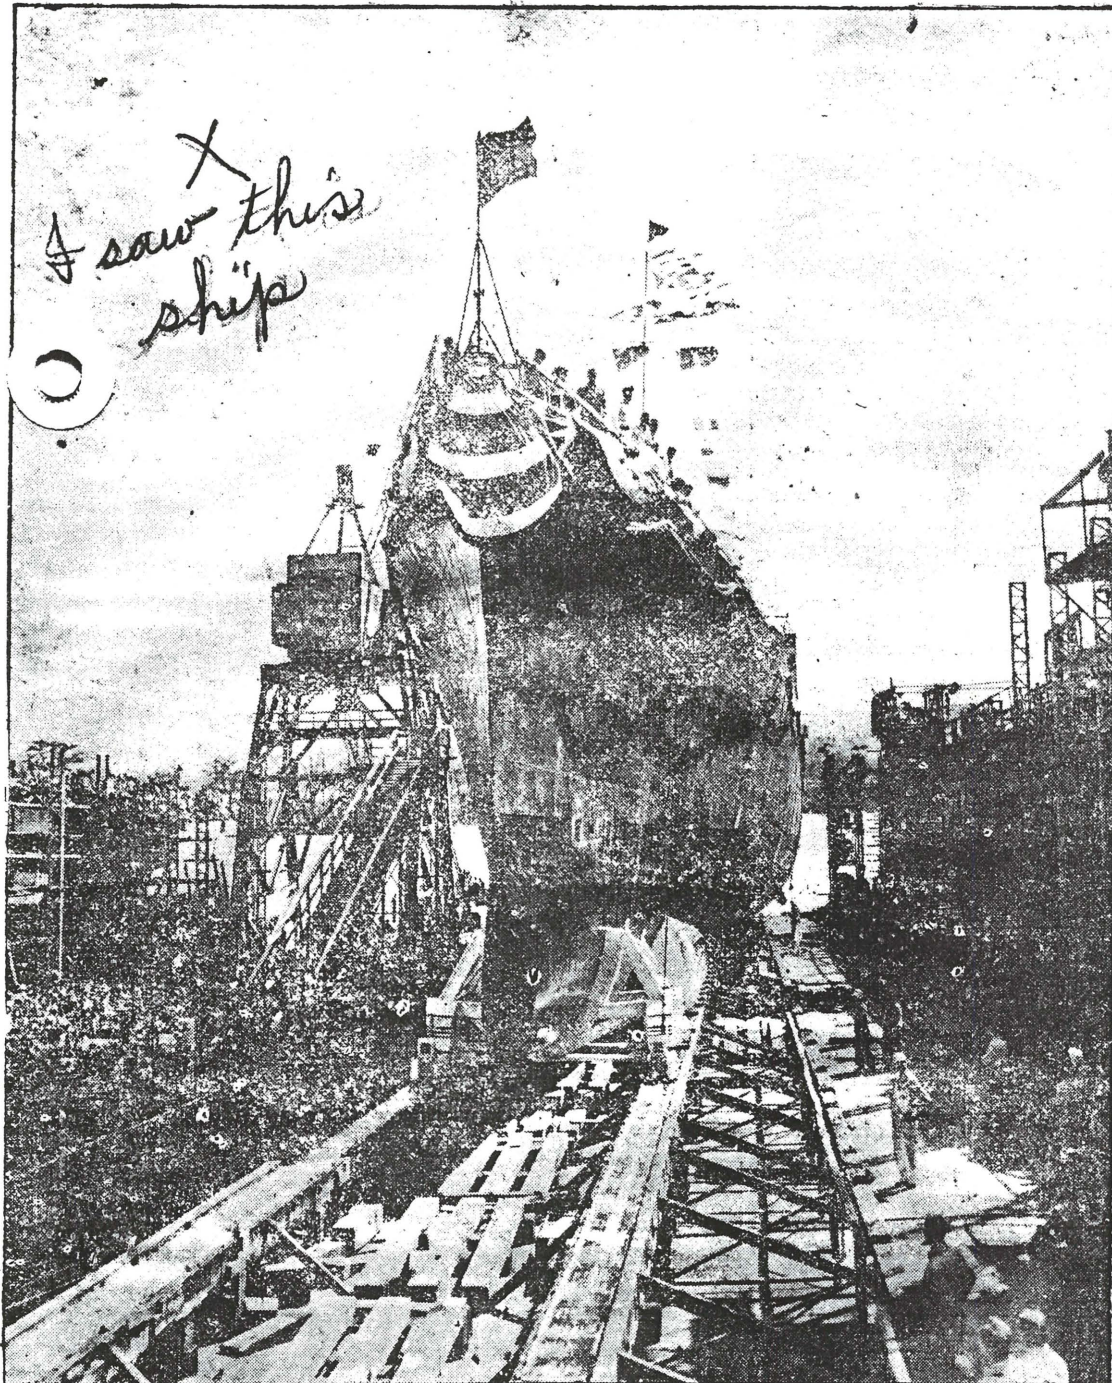

The Gipson Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

River Victim

ED MARSHALL, Above, 19-year-old CCC enrollee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Marshall of Zavalla, was claimed by high waters of the Angelina river Saturday, May 24, during a fishing outing. Body of the youth was not recovered from the swollen stream until Tuesday afternoon. Final rites were held Wednesday at the Parker cemetery.

TEACHERS WILL HANDLE SUGAR RATION BOOKS

Crack-Down on Hoarders Also Decreed; Each Individual to Be Allowed 12 Ounces Weekly.

By Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The nation's public school teachers were given Friday night the huge task of issuing sugar rationing books to every man, woman and child in the nation and were directed to crack down on hoarders by withholding the sweet from them until their supplies are used up.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced details of the rationing program under which books containing stamps will be distributed entitling each individual to a strictly limited quantity of sugar—probably 12 ounces a week.

When the 130,000,000 copies of "War Ration Book No. 1" are distributed "within a few weeks" persons who have built up hoards of sugar will have stamps torn from their books at the time of issuance, to prohibit purchases by them until stocks in their cupboards are exhausted.

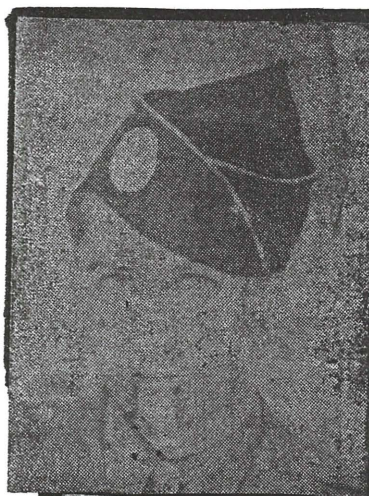

Must Sign Application.

Only one person in each family will have to apply for the stamp books. He will be required to sign an application stating the amount of sugar in his household. All supplies over two pounds per person will be considered hoarded sugar, Henderson said.

As a discouragement to dishonest reporting of family sugar supplies, the application will carry on its face the warning that false reports to the government are punishable under the federal criminal code with penalties up to $10,000 fine or 10 years imprisonment.

"It is expected that there will be relatively few cases of falsification in reporting the amount of sugar in the possession of any family," Henderson predicted in a formal statement.

Each book will contain 28 numbered stamps, each good for the purchase of a definite amount of sugar—probably 12 ounces—during a designated week. As sugar is purchased, the storekeeper will tear out the proper stamp and paste it on a master card which he must turn in, when filled.

Atom Bomb and Russian Declaration Are Expected To Bring Surrender Soon

Molotov Reveals Soviet Union Had Been Asked to Mediate Conflict In Pacific

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 8. (P)—The Tokyo radio said tonight that the Soviet army suddenly launched an attack against Japanese forces on the eastern Soviet Manchukuo border early Thursday morning. According to a communique released by Kwantung army headquarters at 3:30 a. m. Thursday, Japanese time, the broadcast said, the Soviet army suddenly opened the attack against Japanese forces with its ground forces. Simultaneously, the broadcast said the communique added, a small number of Soviet aircraft started bombing attacks on Manchukuo territory.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aug. 8, 1945

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Russia went to war against Japan at 5 p. m. (EWT) today as America looked eagerly for an early end of holocaust in the world. President Truman announced in midafternoon that Russia again had teamed up with the western Allies against an Axis foe. Moscow said the declaration was effective at 5 p. m., eastern war time. Washington reaction was immediate and sure: Together with the great new weapon of atomic bombing, Russia's entry into the battle of the Pacific means Japan cannot long survive. Legions of Russian men now can be hurled at the enemy on the Asiatic continent. And Siberian air bases, a few short minutes from the Nipponese home islands, become available for their destruction.

As late as June, Moscow reported training of fighting men in Siberia under battlefield conditions.

For the president, Russia's long-expected plunge into the Pacific war was a personal triumph in his first venture into international diplomacy. He got the biggest thing he went after at the Potsdam conference with Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee. There he concluded what had been started at Yalta when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president.

TRUMAN TELLS OF WAR DECLARATION

Flanked by Secretary of State, Byrnes and his personal chief of staff, Adm. William D. Leahy, Mr. Truman stood behind his White House desk and made his simple, one-sentence announcement:

"Russia has declared war on Japan."

That was all, he added.

PRESIDENT WILL BROADCAST TONIGHT

To the people, Mr. Truman will speak by radio (all networks) at 10 p. m., (EWT) tomorrow.

In Washington, the announcement was not unexpected. There had been omens for months that Russia eventually would go to war in the Pacific. The only question was when.

The Japanese apparently were too stunned for the moment to give any indication of their intentions.

Here's Easiest Way To Go on New Time

Monday morning at 2 o'clock Houston, in common with the rest of the United States, will go on daylight saving time. Proclamations have been issued by the federal government and the county and city governments asking all to comply with the change and, so far as learned, all of Houston and Harris County will comply.

The change will cause little confusion or inconvenience. Everyone will merely turn his clock ahead one hour when going to bed Sunday night. Then, Monday morning, he will get up at the same hour as usual and get to work at the same hour as he has been reporting in the past.

The only noticeable difference under the new time will be that when getting up in the morning it will not be as light as it was before the clocks were moved ahead, and in the evening it will not get dark as early. That will

Charge Of Navy Men

Dec. 14, 1947

There are very few people, students, or teachers, in L.H.S. who can boast having been platoon commander, in charge of 175 men. But D. J. Sanders, senior, can truthfully say this as he did his part in the war effort by being in Uncle Sam's Navy. D. J. was just seventeen years of age when he had this honor bestowed on him—he's very proud of the fact—and rightly so! He has the Rifleman's ribbon, victory metal, and American theater. His overseas duty was confined to the Pacific.

In school, D. J. is vice president of the Thespian Society. His favorite reading, as you would know if you have ever glanced up into his eyes during a pep rally. He has made markable things at once the Panthers on to victory—reads a book or novel, usually religious at the same time.

D. J.'s most exciting experience was when he was on his way home on a bus from San Diego. The bus was on a rather large icy hill in one of the western states. The bus began to slide down the hill backward and D.

Barge on Stand in 60,000 Balm Case

1948

Aaron Barge, defendant in a $60,000 damage suit filed against him C. C. Walker for alleged alienation of affections, was the first witness called by plaintiff attorneys today and denied from the stand that he had broken up the home of the Zavalla farmer and his wife. R. Rolston and E. J. Conn, attorneys for Walker, called Barge to the stand immediately after the jury was selected and proceeded with a line of questioning on Barge's relations with the Walker family. The defendant, former Zavalla business man, made a general denial of allegations in Walker's petition.

Barge testified he had been in the Walker home several times and made various trips with Mr. and Mrs. Walker. He said there "never been anything wrong." Barge said his wife had "some trouble" with Mrs. Walker.

The defendant denied writing letters referred to by the attorneys who indicated they would produce the letters later as evidence. They secured a specimen of Barge's handwriting and submitted it to the jury for study. Barge was still on the stand at noon recess, the jury having completed about 11 a. m.

C. Musslewhite and W. J. Mansend are attorneys for Barge. The jury is composed of R. V. Coleman, John Perry, B. F. Miller, R. H. Parrish, Robert Butler, E. Wideman, M. C. McKinney, W. F. Deal, all of Lufkin; A. Burris and G. C. Hubbard of Huntington; K. A. Drew and A. F. Hahn of Diboll.

The case was originally slated for trial in the last term of court, but has been filed last fall.

In his petition, Walker alleged that the defendant "unlawfully seduced, lured, enticed, persuaded and corrupted the society of plaintiff's wife, for the sole purpose of harassing, injuring and breaking up the plaintiff's happy home by winning plaintiff's said wife from him." The petition alleged that about May 27 of last year the plaintiff's wife "informed plaintiff for the first time that she did not love him, and no longer was for him any sort of interest, affection, and expressed at said time her desire and wish that plaintiff file a petition for divorce from her in order that she might be free and at liberty to do as she pleased."

The petition alleges $30,000 actual damages and $30,000 exemplary damages.

Both Barge and Walker are well known Angelina county citizens.

About a dozen witnesses were sworn at the morning session.

Court attaches said that as well as they could remember this was the first damage suit involving alienation of affections ever tried in the county.

Walker and his wife were divorced at the last term of court, the divorce proceedings having been filed at about the time the alienation suit was entered. Walker brought the divorce suit but Mrs. Walker sued in counter action and was granted the decree.

3 County Men Join Army

Three Angelina county men volunteered and were accepted for service in the U. S. Army on October 12, 1948. They were Jackie Bob Dykes and James V. Hornsby of Zavalla; and William H. Jones of Huntington.

Dykes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Dykes of Route 1, Zavalla, and attended that high school, where he played on the basketball team. He was also a member of the FFA.

Hornsby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hornsby, of Zavalla, and a graduate of that school. He also attended the Sattler Commercial College in Sattler. He was a member of the basketball team, the Commercial club, the news staff and annual staff, and of the FFA.

Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Jones of Route 2, Huntington, and a graduate of the Zavalla high school, where he played on the basketball and baseball teams. He was also a member of the FFA.

All three boys plan to take advantage of the educational advantages offered by the government, and attend some of the army signal and telephone schools during their three-year enlistment. They will be stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., for their basic training.
