foreword

Another school year passes; another senior class moves on. The joys and sorrows, the companionships and adventures of this year can never return again.

The sole purpose of a yearbook is to help you relive these moments. With this in mind, we present to you the 1957 FANG.

It is the purpose and privilege of your teachers and administration to fit you for life in the best possible way. We want you to gain academic knowledge, social and economic security, and spiritual and personal serenity. Toward this end we work and plan and teach.

Memories of things dear and pleasant become more important to us as responsibilities increase and the problems of living become more complex, therefore we hope that your school days recorded in this annual will afford you many happy moments in years to come.

We are proud of you, the student body of Lufkin High School; and feel confident that you will make a worthwhile contribution to the community wherever you may go.

Our best wishes go with you.

Sincerely,

J. A. Anderson
Superintendent of Schools

dedication

In appreciation for her helpfulness, cheerfulness, and friendly interest, the staff dedicates to Mrs. Helen Herrington this 1957 edition of the Lufkin High School FANG.

1. Good order is the foundation of all good things.

2. Patience and diligence, like faith, remove mountains.

3. Prejudice is an opinion without judgement.

4. Most problems are usually the absence of ideas.

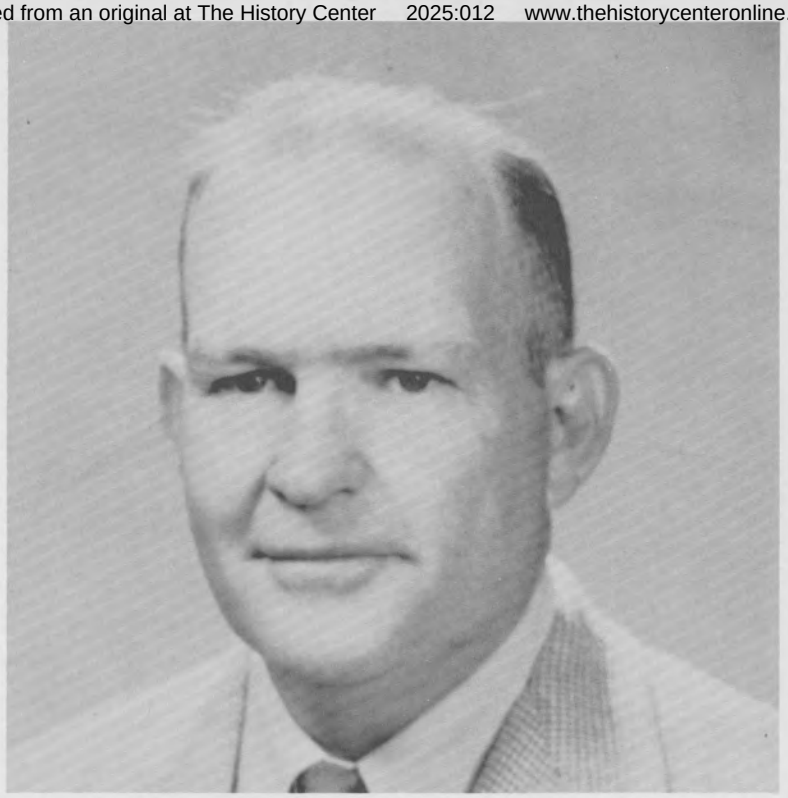

5. The greatest undeveloped territory in the world lies under your hat.

6. Do not condemn the judgement of another because it differs from your own. You both may be wrong.

7. The future belongs to those who prepare for it.

It was funny, wasn't it, Jane?

Where's that sun!

The night is obviously young!

That old three o'clock drag!

You're not sleepy, Mary Margaret?

Anyone for breakfast?
