GRADUATES

A few last minute touches on Jeremy L. Rodgers before the ceremony.

Candace, Essie, Brandie and Rashawn don't appear to be too sad that they are about to graduate.

Anduela and Courtney take a time out to pose for Ms. Jones.

Dimas seems to be pretty excited while Hosam appears to be a little confused.

Phillip Richard lets out his famous words of wisdom, "Alllready!!!" before he marches out and heads to SFA.

Ms. Matlock tells Andrea Mark to assume her position as she gets ready for take-off while Stacey Martz anxiously awaits behind her.

Javier Salais gives a hug to some of his close friends Judy and Jill Meza. Hey Javier, it's gonna be all right!!

Top: Twins Terri and Sherri Oliphant and Bottom: Twins Charles and Carl Runner take time to find one another to congratulate the other after the ceremony.

Kenny Karber can't seem to figure out what he has forgotten to put on. Hey Kenny, you need to put your hat on!!!

Mr. Garr looks over the soon-to-be graduates of Diboll High School while R.L. Lyles is saying to himself, "Oh yeah, I am fixing to be outa here."

Best Friends Hosam ElHelbawi, Carl Runner and Charles Runner share a moment to wish each other the best of luck.

Ms. Jones sneaks a peek with her camera at Greg Miller while he gives the scripture reading.

Ann Mitchell gives Mrs. Micinski a hug after graduation to say good-bye to the best physics teacher ever. From everyone in your classes, "We love you and will miss you deeply. Good luck in Oregon!!"

Good friends J.J. Wyatt and Klancie Sellman, also editors of the 2000 yearbook, take a picture for Ms. Jones and wish each other luck in their futures.

With her hands full, Tameisha Kelly manages to share a big congratulatory hug with fellow classmate and friend Linda Alvarez.

Gloria Kilgore is the first to receive the class certificates from Rep. Jim McReynolds' office as the class of 2000 practices walking across the stage to receive their diplomas from school board president Mr. Jay Wyatt.

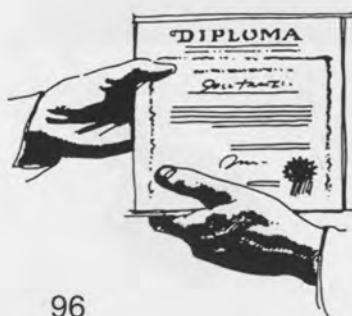

While they wait for everyone to show up at practice Friday morning, Todd Baker seems to think it's a little too early to be doing this.

Seniors wait for their names to be called to be assigned to their seats for the ceremony later that night.

Once everyone finally got seated, Mr. Rice prepped them for what would happen during the graduation ceremony.

2000 graduates practice their entrance for the big night.

Senior sponsor Ms. Foley sits back, relaxes and laughs because school is finally out for the summer.

Sharee Joshua is not shy about her big win at Blackjack. She lets out a loud YEAH!!! as she rakes in the big bucks.

Artie Yates and his date danced the night away.

Phillip Musick, Lionel Garr and Ann Mitchell wait while Mr. Martz tries to fix one of the gambling tables.

Greg Miller takes a breather from all the money-hungry people to feed his hungry tummy. He says, "Just give me all of it."

Lionel Garr is in Peace because he knows he has plenty of money in his account tonight.

Mr. Jay Wyatt calls out the numbers for Bingo while Crystal McWilliams gets a little tense and starts squeezing her arm.

Klancie Sellman talks with one of the game leaders to see if he would be interested in donating some money to the Klancie Needs Money Miracle Network. He is very nice and throws in an extra $30,000 on top of her earnings for winning the game.

Travis Laco looks like he is doing very well at his table playing Blackjack. Look at that wad of money. He says to the dealer, "Now if you slip me another $10,000 I won't be mean to your daughter!!"

"We came here unknown, but left unforgotten"

Temple-Inland Forest

A Standard for Today. A Commitment for Tomorrow.

As stewards of the forest, we embrace responsibilities that reach beyond the boundaries of our land holdings and that affect the lives of future generations. Forestry is more than growing trees.

It requires a careful balance of ecology by considering biological diversity of the forest; sustainability by assuring a perpetual and productive forest; and value by providing the cost-effective delivery of wood to our mills.

As the fifth largest private landowner in the South and the ninth largest in the nation, we are continuously developing strategies to effectively maintain this equilibrium on the 2.2 million acres of forestland we own and lease.

At Temple, we're proud of our reputation and proud of the achievement and the hundreds of men and women that have made us what we are today.

We are especially proud to live and work in places like Angelina County. So, our dedication to the forest, to the environment and to the future is also our dedication to you. Our commitment to building a stronger company and a stronger community for the next century and the next millennium.
