2001
one of a kind!

After the excitement of ringing in 2000, 2001 was much quieter. DHS welcomed new faces and said goodbye to familiar ones as another school year was put into the books.

Perfect Season. It may have ended too early for the Jacks, but they were still proud of going 10-0. Two of the strongest powerlifters, but on complete opposites of the scale, lifted their way to state. In addition, the Fowler sisters competed at the state track meet. Alisha won bronze in two events.

Cedric attempts to pitch the ball so that he can keep the play alive.

Big A., one of the top bench pressers, qualified for state.

For the first time in a while, DHS did not have a bonfire the night before homecoming because of a burn ban that covered East Texas. Instead, DHS held a community pep rally.

Lindsay Vanover, escorted by her father, Coach Vanover, was crowned homecoming queen on Friday. The Lumberjacks played the Tatum Eagles, one of the top teams in the state, and came out victorious.

Junior Duchess TaMeisha Miller and her escort walk across the field.

Cheerleaders Lauren, Maria, Daphne, Alecia and Margie surround Robert Castillo after the halftime homecoming ceremonies.

celebrate

First runner-up Sheila Hawthorne congratulates Queen Amanda Sample on her win.

Diboll Day is a bi-annual tradition that celebrates the founding of the city. Amanda Sample, Sheila Hawthorne, April Stoddard and Holly Smith represented the four groups that raised funds during months that led to the day of celebration.

Coaches Snelson, Prescott and Green grip the rope tightly hoping they will win and not fall into the mud pit.

spirit

Hat day during drug free week attracts a lot of student participation.

All laced up and no where to go. Some of the hottest clothing this year was shoes.

Many different styles were worn by students throughout the year.

For example, they wore Polo, Hilfiger, Fubu and Gap jeans.

But don't forget that their favorite jeans (yes the ones with holes) were cool too. We DHS students always like to look our best in every way.

Am I late again?!?

Shelby, Denise and Veronica forgot to get dressed for school.

Alecia and Tiffany attempt to change the baby's clothes for a parenting project.

Steven Vaughn and Charles Russell practice their dueling skills for their theater class.

learning

One of the physics groups lets their egg drop project fall to the ground.

Learning at DHS doesn't always take place in the traditional classroom with desks. Students participate in the Physics Olympics, parenting projects, theater and musical productions, computer and technical projects, youth fairs and a variety of other events.

Mrs. Cordell's AP English class found out Hester's trouble when they wore her "Scarlett Letter."

Ms. Williams' art students attempt to make masks.

What is the most interesting thing about the senior class?

My most memorable moment with the senior class was in my AP English class when we studied "The Great Gatsby," and we got to see a 1920s car. - Mrs. Cordell

I think the most interesting thing about the DHS senior class 2001 is that they are a very diverse group, and they have served their purpose well. The seniors of 2001 have been very successful as leaders and entertaining performers and I'm expecting to hear a lot more about their success in the years to come. I'm always here for you. - Mr. Lane

This was the first class I had the most problems with, 7th period 1998-99. - Mrs. Murphy

The Rubber-band Boat Race - Congratulations Mr. Howard for showing the high school students how the pioneers washed their clothes.

DISTRICT CHAMPS

An Unbeatable Season

The varsity team did what they set out to do - win district. They successfully defeated their toughest opponents including district rivals Center, in a fierce rainstorm, and Crockett, the last game of the season.

Craig Young signals the touchdown toward the homestands.

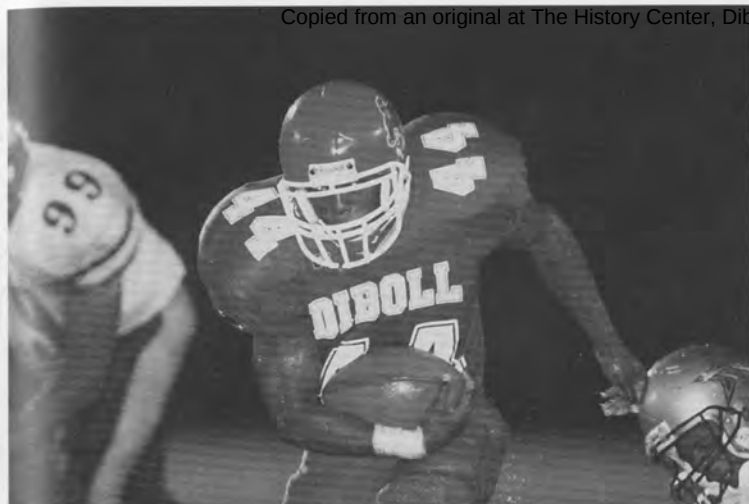

"The best part of the season was going 10-0, having all my boys and playing together - shut'em all (teams) down. The sad part was not going farther in the play-offs."
- Carlos Lee

Starting Over

The season did not turn out the way the Ladyjacks had hoped, missing their chance at regional competition. The majority of the experienced players graduated and the younger members on the JV and Freshman teams just worked hard at being their best.

Changing the Plans

It was a rebuilding year for the Ladyjacks. Young faces replaced the graduating veterans, but many of the younger members stepped up to the challenge that opponents gave them throughout the season.

Terrell Taylor

For me being new to the school, the best part was meeting such cool people and getting to know them better. The other good part was how we ended playing so much better as a team compared to the first game of the season. - Micah Hunter

Temple-Inland Forest

A Standard for Today. A Commitment for Tomorrow.

As stewards of the forest, we embrace responsibilities that reach beyond the boundaries of our land holdings and that affect the lives of future generations. Forestry is more than growing trees.

It requires a careful balance of ecology by considering biological diversity of the forest; sustainability by assuring a perpetual and productive forest; and value by providing the cost-effective delivery of wood to our mills.

As the fifth largest private landowner in the South and the ninth largest in the nation, we are continuously developing strategies to effectively maintain this equilibrium on the 2.2 million acres of forestland we own and lease.

At Temple, we're proud of our reputation and proud of the achievement and the hundreds of men and women that have made us what we are today.

We are especially proud to live and work in places like Hardin County. So, our dedication to the forest, to the environment and to the future is also our dedication to you. Our commitment to building a stronger company and a stronger community for the next century and the next millennium.
