Red, White, & You

Dear Seniors, here are a few things you should know. It won't hit you when you wake up for your last, first day of school. It won't hit you when you attend your last homecoming pep rally or your last football game. It won't hit you as you fill out endless numbers of scholarships and college applications. You won't feel it when you're having the time of your life during your last spring break, or when April comes around and it's your last prom. But you begin to realize it at graduation. You will look around and realize you won't see half of these people again. You will begin to see everyone starting to get their class schedules, roommates, and going to orientation. It still has not fully hit you when you have packed up the last 18 years of your life. You might feel it that morning you leave for college, as that is the last time you will see your parents, siblings, and your best friends for a while. But it will finally hit you once you have officially moved into your dorm that will be your new home for the next year. Good luck to everyone on their future accomplishments. As of right now, we can say WE MADE IT.

Celeste,

The years have flown by too fast, but the memories
Will last forever...

You are loved for the little girl you were then,
The special woman you are now,
And for the wonderful sister you have always been!

You are mom's sunshine,
You are daddy's little girl, and
You are your brother's keeper!
You have always been so special
To us and brought so much joy to Our lives. Your kind heart is what makes "you",
And your infectious laugh is music to our ears

We are blessed to have a daughter like you and are proud of you May the rest of your journey continue to bring you happiness And success. You deserve the best.
Always keep God first, stay true to your heart, believe in Yourself, be open to new experiences, make good choices, be proud of yourself,
embrace love, accept all that You are,
forgive others and yourself, and remember...

Laughing and Dancing will always make things better

May your light shine bright so you will never lose your way

With all our love, Dad, Mom and Zumo

Celeste 2016

Don't let anyone think less of you because you are young,
Be an example to all the believers in what you say,

So proud of you and all your accomplishments. Just like your favorite quote by John Green, "I GO TO SEEK A GREAT PERHAPS," continue to let this quote inspire and motivate you to chase your dreams, to take a little risk, and to always try new things. So that one day you will find your "Great Perhaps." Continue the drive always.... We love you so much. Love, Mom, Bonny, Nicky, and Cindy.
